

My wife and I drive a tractor-trailer long distance. The traffic and weather that we get are far better and more informative than any local radio station. Not to mention the advance trip planning we can do in the interest of SAFETY. Ours and the general public who we share the highways with.